

Students Not Scores presents...

Ed Reform 2.0

Personalized Learning in Orwellian Times

While parents and educators are busy fighting Common Core and high stakes testing, corporate reformers are sneaking into the backdoor of our public schools in other ways. Alison McDowell, a Philadelphia parent and education activist who blogs at Wrench in the Gears joins us to give attendees an up close look at this terribly frightening, yet extremely important development.

All attendees must RSVP at: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/ed-reform-20-tickets-34611748672>
